

PROSPECTUS
FOR THE
EXTRA GLOBE FOR 1839.

We lay before our Republican friends a subscription paper for our cheap periodical publication, the "Extra Globe."

During the months when Congress is in session, we publish the "Congressional Globe," which gives a condensed report of its proceedings weekly, for one dollar. In the interval between the sessions of Congress we publish the "Extra Globe," for six months, containing the news, politics, public documents, and whatever else of interest appears in the Daily Globe, for the same price. These two publications are printed weekly, in book-form, to render them convenient for preservation and reference. Each number contains 16 royal quartos pages.

The important elections which will take place during the approaching Summer and Fall, will give peculiar value to the information to be derived from this quarterly canvass. The new phases of parties in the north, and the troubled aspect which foreign agitation gives to our national affairs, there will also impart to the country for six months preceding the meeting of the next Congress, more than ordinary interest.

The publication of the "Extra Globe" will commence the first week in May, and end the first week in November next.

PROSPECTUS

VICKSBURG SENTINEL.

BY JAMES HAGAN,
EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

This paper has been in operation nearly two years and a half, and without the aid of party patronage, it has pressed its way to public favour.

Early for seeing the desolating effects of our banking system on every species of industry in the State—commercial, agricultural, and mechanical—the Sentinel waged unremitting war on its injustice, oppression and tyranny. Its defects have been exposed, its selfishness and swindling denounced, and the whole machinery by which it deranged commerce, monopolized trade, and transferred the profits of labor to the pockets of a few penniless speculators, have been demonstrated to the satisfaction of the most casual observers.

In assuming this bold position, the Sentinel has found the moneyed power of the country, wielded by an organized band of swindlers and speculators, virulently arrayed against it. Controlling, as this band does, either directly or indirectly, a large portion of the press of the State, and stimulated as they are by avarice and the mostgrading passions of human nature, the war has been carried on interminably. But reaction has just commenced; time, demonstration, and above all the workings of the vicious system, have conspired to arouse the people to a just sense of their danger. They have taken the alarm, and are preparing to co-operate in every measure calculated to pro-trait that system of swindling by which the people of the State have been most shamefully plundered for the last two years.

To extend the usefulness of the Sentinel, and to increase the number of paying subscribers, this prospectus is issued.

The politics of the Sentinel are State Rights; as laid down in the Virginia and Kentucky Resolutions of '98 and '99; and approving most cordially the leading principle of both the State and Federal administrations; its energies will be strenuously devoted to the support of both. The bold stand taken by Governor M'Nutt against the issue of the irredeemable paper, and his lucid exposition of the evils of our banking system, entitle him to the support of all who prefer the prosperity of the great mass of the people, to the interests of a few speculators and bank managers.

The policy of Mr Van Buren, in breaking up all connection between the Banks and State, it is believed will have the most salutary effect on the future destiny of the United States, and particularly on the commercial, agricultural and political interests of the South. The entire exclusion of all bank-paper from the fiscal operations of Government, will, it is believed, be found absolutely necessary to terminate those calamitous fluctuations to which this nation has been subjected every few years, since its fiscal concerns have been blended with the private business of corporations and individuals.

Particular attention will be paid to the foreign and domestic markets; and whatever may affect the interests of our merchants and planters will be carefully collected and promptly laid before our readers. The money market, and the movements of capitalists and statesmen abroad, which may either proximately or remotely affect the peace of our great staple will be carefully watched.

Literature and the news of the day will receive a due portion of editorial attention. The Sentinel will, as heretofore be published weekly—the former at $12, and the latter at five dollars per annum in advance.

Being excluded from the pale of bank accommodations, and our expenses being heavy in all cases, we are constrained to require all subscriptions to be paid in advance. We risk the transmission by mail.

Vicksburg, May, 1839.

SOUTHERN LITERARY MESSENGER.

Published at Richmond, Thomas W. White, and Devoted to every department of Literature and the fine Arts. At $5 per annum, payable in advance.

In the prospectus issued in the infancy of this periodical, we made use of the following language, as a literary journal performs so important a function in the present organization, it behoves him who undertakes such a work, to bring with him a fixed determination to make it worthy the rank which it ought to occupy, and the end which it ought to fulfil. Such a publisher can with confidence assert, is the determination with which he regards the enterprise before him. If rulers can be commanded by money, and if unremitted diligence and steady perseverance on his part will procure their ordinary results, then may he venture to assure all those who regard for literature may prompt them to look upon his designs with favor, that the Southern Literary Messenger will be worthy of their support.

How the prophecies herein implied have been varried into effect, will be best ascertained by a reference in facts, by reference to the many encomiums from the highest quarters—and to the very extensive and solid patronage which the Messenger has usually received.

The first volume, forming a handsome super-royal octavo of 845 pages, and having a copious index, terminated with the thirteenth No. of the Messenger—the two first numbers, having been issued, will be remembered, at intervals of a fortnight.

In commencing the second volume we have aimed at improvement. In the literary and critical department such aid has been promised and from such sources as cannot fail to place the Messenger upon a level with any similar publication in the United States, if not in Europe. In the typographical and entire mechanical execution we are determined to spare neither labor or expense. A new font of type has been received expressly for the work, and the expensive arrangements we have in contemplation will not fail to give the entire publication a neater and more pleasing appearance.

While we return sincere thanks for the patronage already so nobly afforded us, we take this opportunity of soliciting a countenance. More especially we call upon the south for support—and are well assured that our appeal will not be in vain.

The Southern Literary Messenger is printed on new type and paper of superior or equal, at $5 per annum payable in all cases in advance.

Subscription cannot be received for less than one year, and must commence with the beginning of some volume.

Five new subscribers, by sealing their names and twenty dollars at one time to the proprietor will receive five copies for one year.

An omission to notify the proprietor of discontinuance before the commencement of the volume succeeding that for which subscription has been made will be considered a continuance of subscription—and a compliance with those conditions will be rightly exacted from every one who may have failed in giving the proper notice.

PROSPECTUS.
OR THE

SOUTHERN REPORTER,
A WEEKLY NEWSPAPER, PUBLISHED IN THE
TOWN OF GRENADA, YALOONA COUNTY,

MISSISSIPPI.

The undersigned have commenced the publication of a new paper, with the above title, in the town of Grenada. In its politics the Reporter will be decidedly Democratic.

It will support the re-election of Martin Van Buren, as President of the United States, and oppose the election of Henry Clay, or any other Whig candidate. It will support the re-election of the present able and worthy Chief Magistrate of Mississippi, ALEXANDER G. MCINTIRE, and will oppose the policy of the Union Bank in issuing Post Notes, dealing in cotton, and establishing the Branches—as the law required and the public interest demanded. It will support the rights and liberties of the people, and do justice to all men in institutions faithfully fulfilling their obligations of their charter. We shall endeavor to keep our paper in the highest condition possible.

and support only such men for public office as pledge themselves unequivocally to prosecute a radical reformation in the present Banking system of Mississippi. These are the cardinal principles which the Southern Reporter will faithfully advocate. In an agricultural, commercial, literary, and mechanical point of view it will pursue that course best calculated to advance the "greatest good of the greatest number" of the white people.

WM. NEED,
JAS. M. NEWTON.

TERMS.—The Southern Reporter is published every Saturday morning, on an inferior sheet, at FIVE DOLLARS per annum, if paid in advance, or seven dollars afterwards. Advertisements inserted at the usual rates.
